This I have recently attempted to do in a paper of which an abstract is here given. The Firmisternia are certainly derived from the Arcifera, as shown by their ontogeny, and among the latter the Cystignathidae agree in so many points with the Ranidae that we may legitimately assume a direct genetic relationship between them. Dealing first with external characters, I consider the complete separation of the outer metatarsals by web as the most primitive character, which is not correlated with the degree of development of the web between the toes. In all...
